1. Resources: Utilization And Development

Class : VIII Sub : Geographuy

Types of Questions : Fill in the blanks .

1. Pygmies belong to Africa.
2. River are suitable for navigation in the middle and lower course.
3. Developed countries are economically self-sufficient and technologically advanced.
4. The Pygmies completely depend on the natural environment to obtain their food.
5. The renewable resources are also known as inexhaustible resources.
6. The non-renewable resources are also known as exhaustible resources.
7. The metallic ores are recyclable.
8. The biotic resources are obtained from the biosphere.
9. The biotic resources have the capacity to reproduce.
10. Conservation means sustainable and optimum utilization of resources.
11. Utility makes a substance resource.
12. On the basis of origin, resources are classified into biotic and abiotic resources.
13. The actual resources are fully surveyed and developed
14. The potential resource requires detailed survey.

Definition of the geographical terms.

Resource : Anything which satisfies the human needs is called Resource.

Natural Resources : The gift of nature which satisfies human needs is called natural resources.

Renewable resource : The resources which can be used again and again are called renewable resources.

Non-renewable resource : The resources which can not be replaced once will end up are called the non-renewable resource

Biotic resource : The resources which have life in them are called t the biotic resources.

Abiotic resource : The resources which do not have life in them are the abiotic resources.

Sustainable development : The development that takes place without damaging the environment is called the sustainable development

.

Conservation : Sustainable and optimum utilization of resources is called conservation.

Potential resource : Available resources which are not fully tapped are called potential resources.

Actual resource : The resources which are surveyed and developed are called actual resources.

Man-made resource : The resources which produced by the skills of human beings are called the man-made resources.